Product DetailsProduct Information

The Pentax Asahi KX is a 35mm SLR film camera, ideal for both, professionals and beginners. With 1s - 1/1000 sec shutter speed, this Pentax SLR camera helps to freeze motion, allowing you to capture razor-sharp pictures of moving objects. The TTL exposure metering of this Pentax film camera measures the amount of light in a scene, for determining the best possible exposure. The 1/60 X sync speed of this Pentax SLR camera balances with direct sunlight, by bringing sufficient flash power. Driven by a special model MotorKX motor, this Pentax film camera promises to deliver superior performance, whenever required. Being 631 g, the Pentax Asahi KX is light enough to provide comfortable portability, for traveling photographers.

The item offered here is a classic Asahi Pentax KX 35mm SLR camera body in excellent working and cosmetic condition. This model Pentax was introduced in 1973 and was one of the first to use the new Pentax K bayonet lens mount. The camera features match-needle CdS metering and full information in the viewfinder.

The camera light meter reads correctly and all other camera functions are in excellent operational condition.

The viewfinder is pristine with no dirt, dust or scratch markings at all. The camera body metal and leatherette finishes are very clean showing only minor wear/age markings. There is a small dent on the left end of the top cover under the rewind lever/ASA dial (see picture).

The camera requires 2 - A76 (or equivalent) 1.5V Silver or Alkaline batteries for operation (not included).

This Asahi Pentax KX 35mm SLR camera would make a great addition to a collection or a learning tool for a student photographer!

Our in-house camera technician serviced this top quality camera body: complete cleaning, new light seals & mirror pads, fully tested.

We are offering a 30-day warranty against operational defects on this camera body. We are happy to stand behind top quality equipment for your peace of mind.

This item came from a very large collection of over 500 pieces of photography items that one of our clients has assembled over the past 40 years. We are now liquidating this collection.

All of these items were purchased new and has only had one owner. The equipment was used lightly, very well cared for and properly stored in a dust-free, pet-free, smoke-free dry environment. As a result, you'll see that the items from this collection show little to no use.

You Get:

- Asahi Pentax KX 35mm SLR Camera Body (#8384691)
- Pentax Body Cap
- 30-day warranty against operational defects (impact damage, water/liquid damage, dust & dirt intrusion not covered under warranty.)

Asahi Pentax KX 35mm SLR Film Camera Looks Like Brand New For Only $99.00 USD

I bought this 35mm SLR film camera which is probably over 40 years old but it looks like it is brand new in which I paid only $99.00 USD. The previous owner of this camera took good care of it(the camera was probably was not used very much by the original owner who bought it new). Everything on this camera works as it should since I checked the shutter speed, the aperture , the film speed ASA/ISO setting ext. on it. The SMC Pentax 55mm F1.8 lens that came with it Read full review...

Awesome Camera

I shot a roll of film with the camera, got some great shots from it. And some shot with some light leak. So will need new light seals in the future.

Great SLR camera. High quality and easy to learning.

<http://www.pentaxforums.com/camerareviews/pentax-kx.html>

The KX has everything. It's weighty, but it's the weight of quality. The fit and finish on this camera is amazing; it's built more solidly than any other SLR I've held, and its smoothness and precision and operation are second only to the SV I used for a period (the Sightseeing Screwmount on the film forum--thanks woof!) It's big, but that means there's enough Read full review...
